

Eulogy Preface

I want to preface this by saying thank you to all of you who have come to honor Kim. I have quite a bit to say and I am going to say it because she will be honored. And to all you guys I work with- to you guys who wondered why I always wanted to leave work and rush home, this is why I wanted to rush home. Because the time we have here on Earth is not guaranteed, and I wanted to savor every minute of every day with my wife and family... and here she is....and you need to rush home to your wife and family. You need to spend as much time with your family as you possibly can because you never know how long you are going have them with you.
